Our story

Bertram’s opened in July 2015 after a two year renovation, during which we stripped the building back to a shell, rebuilt it, preserving it for the future. Bertram’s is owned and run by mother and daughter, Lynda and Samantha. We are supported by a wonderful, smiley team who all go the extra mile to look after you.

Bertram’s was formerly the Black Bull pub and is now named after Sir Bertram, who exiled himself to Warkworth’s Hermitage. The building dates from around 1720 and was one of the first coaching inns on Bridge Street.
